

Fall

Sunghun Kong

This work is an expression of myself falling and fluttering in the void. Twelve projectors divided in four groups, three a group, project a quarter of my body image apiece sequentially. Three sequential images are projected respectively in four groups, giving you the motion of fluttering. The "after image effect", used in early movies or animated cartoons is utilized.